WED - 2025 paryavartan

World Environment Day 2025 will be celebrated with various programs aimed at enhancing environmental awareness, particularly among MSMEs, business associates, and the general public. This year's theme is 'ESG Compliance through ISO Standards.'

The half-day conclave will be held virtually via ZOOM on Saturday, 7th June 2025. Experts, technocrats, institutions, business associates, and patrons from India and abroad will come together to celebrate, preserve the Earth, and discuss strategies for conserving rapidly depleting natural resources.

We invite your papers and presentations on the specified sub-topics. Presentations should be limited to 15 minutes, followed by a 5-minute recap. A panel discussion will be held after the presentations.

The Importance of ESG Standards

In today's evolving business landscape, integrating Environmental, Social, and Governance (ESG) principles is no longer optional—it is essential. ISO standards offer a globally recognized pathway to achieving credible and confident ESG compliance.

ISO standards provide trusted frameworks to support ESG goals:

- Environmental (E): ISO 14001 helps manage environmental impact and promote sustainability.
- Social (S): ISO 45001 ensures workplace safety; ISO 26000 guides social responsibility.
- Governance (G): ISO 14067:2018 (Carbon Footprint), ISO 14046:2014 (Water Footprint), ISO 50001 (Energy Management), and ISO 37000 (Good Governance).
